

God does not reveal himself to the masses

(A): True (B): False

When God calls someone, he gives them a vision and a revelation about ministry.

(A): True (B): False

People do not receive a delegation of authority from God. He reserves all Authority for himself.

(A): True (B): False

People should not try to represent God when they are called into ministry.

(A): True (B): False

Prophets tend to know things from God before most people do.

(A): True (B): False

People often misunderstand the prophet because they are hardhearted toward God

(A): True (B): False

If you are called by God, you may be misunderstood. You should defend yourself in order to get peoples approval.

(A): True (B): False

God never allows your dreams to die. He would not rob us of the happiness and fulfillment we get upon completing our tasks.

(A): True (B): False

It is not important to read the Bible or pray if we can hear Gods voice directly.

(A): True (B): False

At the end of the day we should never do more than God told us to do, or less. To do more or less is sin.

(A): True (B): False

Hearing and obeying God's voice brings peace and security. Not hearing and disobeying brings anxiety and insecurity.

(A): True (B): False

It is not our responsibility to seek out a mentor. If God wants us to have one, He will send them to us.

(A): True (B): False

If a person is truly called by God they are not dependent on title or position. They can still function in the office of their calling

(A): True (B): False

God calls many people (who make excuses or disqualify themselves) but only a few take up the responsibility of leadership.

(A): True (B): False

Someone with a true shepherds heart is also known as a hireling.

(A): True (B): False

People who are self promoting are usually filled with pride and pursue selfish interests.

(A): True (B): False

A humble leader waits for appointment, and can often be passed up for a position.

(A): True (B): False

Someone who is teachable, asks lots of questions. People who have all the answers are rarely the ones whom God uses.

(A): True (B): False

A sense of entitlement is very common in this day and age. It is characteristic of great leaders.

(A): True (B): False

People should listen to me if I have the title of a leader. I do not need to earn the right to speak into their life.

(A): True (B): False

Jesus washed the disciples feet to fulfill the law of Moses about being spiritually clean.

(A): True (B): False

A bondservant is not doing a duty from personal choice. They are a slave.

(A): True (B): False

A servant leader has to pay a very high price of personal denial and sacrifice.

(A): True (B): False

Many leaders fall away because the price is too high to pay.

(A): True (B): False

When Jesus said "Can you drink from this cup?" He refers to communion.

(A): True (B): False

Rick Warren talked about Moses staff or rod. God asks us what we have in our hand. We will use our talents, possessions, and influence for His kingdom?

(A): True (B): False

Bill Hybels talked about Popeye and Olive Oil, It had no spiritual meaning.

(A): True (B): False

Chuck Swindoll talked about rushing ahead of God, and being stuck because of our past mistakes.

(A): True (B): False

There is no such thing as "Holy Discontent". We should always be content.

(A): True (B): False

If you are "called" by God, things will always go smooth and provisions will be waiting on you.

(A): True (B): False