

Adam and Eve hid from God instead of seeking Him out.

(A): True(B): False

The nature of sin is to draw us close to God.

(A): True(B): False

God has great plans in store for those who seek Him. Those who turn away from God are left to themselves.

(A): True(B): False

God's heart longs and waits to connect with us, and reveal Himself to us. Our earthly desires (attachments) restrict a closer fellowship.

(A): True(B): False

Moses' heart was full of pride and that kept him from seeing God face to face.

(A): True(B): False

Moses found favor with God, and because of his humility, he experienced the presence of God in a personal way.

(A): True(B): False

God is searching the earth for those who are spiritually hungry.

(A): True(B): False

The Bible says to sow, reap, cultivate, and God will bring the rain of righteousness.

(A): True(B): False

If we disobey Gods laws and choose to sin, He will still show up because His presence is not connected to us in any way.

(A): True(B): False

God can be omnipresent and we still can miss His presence.

(A): True(B): False

Many seek presents from God in stead of seeking His presence.

(A): True(B): False

Most people want the hand of God, not the face of God.

(A): True(B): False

Knowing the heart of God is more valuable than understanding the mind of God.

(A): True(B): False

Having patience and waiting on God is not connected to trusting God.

(A): True(B): False

Our calendar and our checkbook reflect our priorities and desires.

(A): True(B): False

We often want God to limit Himself to showing up on Sunday morning when we're ready. Then we ask Him to be limitless in answering our prayer requests.

(A): True(B): False

God is sovereign, we can not manipulate His supernatural appearing.

(A): True(B): False

We will find God when we are dehydrated and starving spiritually. If we are comfortable and satisfied, we often have no need to seek Him out.

(A): True(B): False

If His presence is valuable enough, we will give up almost everything and everybody that stands in the way.

(A): True(B): False

To really seek God, means that we may be humbly crushed in our spirit. He may have to remove everything and everyone in the way.

(A): True(B): False