

Test name: Emotions 2Question 1 of 22

Jesus showed emotions on several occasions in the Bible.

- A) True
 B) False

Question 2 of 22

Jesus laughed hysterically at one point.

- A) True
 B) False

Question 3 of 22

Jesus showed Love, compassion, grief, sorrow, joy, frustration and anger.

- A) True
 B) False

Question 4 of 22

Jesus had human feelings which included being hungry, thirsty and tired.

- A) True
 B) False

Question 5 of 22

Jesus grieved over John the Baptist in Matt 14:12, 13.

- A) True
 B) False

Question 6 of 22

Music has the inherent ability to tap into our emotions, but that is only carnal. We should not allow for emotional expressions in true Biblical worship.

-
- A) True
 B) False

Question 7 of 22

Since Adam and Eve, our emotions have become unfaithful and deceptive guides. We have lived with conflicting emotions, feeling they inform us of what is right, yet we daily experience the consequences of following our feelings.

-
- A) True
 B) False

Question 8 of 22

Our emotions are gifted at helping us understand the present and helping us interpret what we experience. Jesus in the garden of Gethsemane is perhaps the best picture of our current relationship with emotions (as born again Christians).

-
- A) True
 B) False

Question 9 of 22

Jesus's body and emotions painfully, yet accurately, told Him that moving forward would be overwhelming. But what did Jesus do? Though the feeling of anxiety accurately indicated what would come, He didn't allow it to guide Him.

-
- A) True
 B) False

Question 10 of 22

Scripture tells us that before Jesus's garden of Gethsemane moment, He sang a hymn with His disciples. Jesus worshiped before He wrestled in the garden. He was emotionally strengthened and prepared for what was coming by singing and aligning His emotions with God's truth.

- A) True
- B) False

Question 11 of 22

Since human emotions are an aspect of God's creation, they are good. Even good things can provide an avenue for sin when unchecked. The fall clearly impacted our interaction with our emotions.

- A) True
- B) False

Question 12 of 22

Emotions are a natural instinctive state of mind deriving from one's circumstances, mood, or relationships with others. Those intuitive feelings are distinguished from facts, reasoning or knowledge.

- A) True
- B) False

Question 13 of 22

Our personality is the combination of characteristics or qualities and attributes or behaviors that form an individual's distinctive character.

- A) True
- B) False

Question 14 of 22

Temperament is the nature or constitution of a person as it permanently affects their behavior. It has been repeated and created from habitual behaviors. (tempered)

- A) True
- B) False

Question 15 of 22

To be Indifferent is having no particular interest or sympathy; unconcerned. uninterested, uncaring, casual, nonchalant, offhand, uninvolved. Meg Ryan said in "Joe vs. the Volcano", I have no response to that.

-
- A) True
- B) False

Question 16 of 22

Being happy or sad is a shallow feeling, as compared to joy which is a deeper emotion, not as likely to depend on circumstances.

-
- A) True
- B) False

Question 17 of 22

Being Angry is always a sin.

-
- A) True
- B) False

Question 18 of 22

Depression is when a person is in a state of general unhappiness or despondency. It is always a sin and you can always snap out of it without worldly meds and counseling.

-
- A) True
- B) False

Question 19 of 22

Anxiety is a feeling of worry, fear, nervousness, or unease, typically about an imminent event or something with an uncertain outcome. It is good to not try and predict the future, but instead prepare yourself to dwell on Biblical truths.

-
- A) True
- B) False

Question 20 of 22

Fear is an alarm, dread, or painful emotion. A perceived danger from a response of something to projecting a future threat. It ultimately brings a change in behavior, such as fleeing, hiding, or freezing from perceived traumatic events.

- A) True
- B) False

Question 21 of 22

Jesus (in the Bible) said not to worry, fear not, and cast your cares on Him. It can be hard to trust God in these matters if we do not renew our mind.

- A) True
- B) False

Question 22 of 22

Peace is a feeling of security, freedom from disturbance, and order in a community provided for by a law or custom. It is the absence of conflict, not the presence of justice.

- A) True
- B) False