

Rights vs Responsibilities - - Jordan Peterson

1. Young people have been told enough about their rights to last the next 15 decades!
 2. Rights are about what you can do, what is allowed.
 3. Responsibility is about what you should do.
 4. They need more respectability and depth. (because)
 5. Rights don't give you much direction
 6. Rights are shallow and without meaning
 7. Life is a difficult journey, you need dignity and contribution to feel a sense of purpose.
 8. Society and social circles are important to this generation. Those circles can not function apart from our responsibility for one another.
 9. Those who get responsibility are those who will lead.

In the church...

1. Leaders consistently get there early and stay late.
2. Leaders provide and take care of followers
3. Leaders listen, followers verbally advertise everything.
4. Followers are looking to be fed, defining their rights.
5. Immature "takers" have high expectations of what they need.
6. Believers receive benefits of the gospel.
7. Disciples go, share, serve, teach, and reach others.
